A Career With Asgard

Are you a massage therapist that is looking for a new team to join? We may be a good fit for you. At Asgard, we offer our massage therapists a relaxed, trusting, supportive environment where we enable our therapists to care for their patients to the best of their ability. We strive to ensure that our staff have a solid work-life balance and we offer a flexible work schedule.

We provide our massage therapists with the opportunity to earn above average market rate. Our therapists enjoy perks such as one free massage per month, a meditation/grounding room for employees only, a flexible schedule, bonuses for working weekends, and a business owner who's empathetic to the needs of massage therapists. We provide all massage supplies, including lotion, linens, table, etc.

While we are a young business, our rapid growth causes us to constantly be looking to add new, like-minded team members.

Company Values and Culture:

Asgard Massage started with just one massage therapist who had a passion to help people through affordable massage therapy. However, as the business grew, we started to hire other like-minded massage therapists, and a second mission began.

This mission was to offer a financially stable career while at the same time providing meaningful, impactful work for the massage therapists working at Asgard Massage in a team atmosphere. Over the years, we have realized that we can accomplish our goals by following what the late great Zig Ziglar said, "You can have everything you want in life if you just help enough others get what they want."

Each person on our team is viewed as a valuable member of our Asgard Massage family, rather than just being an 'employee'. We strive to keep our prices low for our patients, so that they can afford massage on a regular basis, while at the same time compensating our therapists above market rate so they can earn a decent living.

Our goal is that everyone who walks through our door would experience compassion, support, and full health.
